Recruiting 4 invited teachers

Each year, ENSA Normandie recruits 4 invited professors to conduct architectural, urban or landscape studios in the second semester of the third year of the bachelor's degree program. These invited professors provide 120 hours of supervision for a group of twenty students, and also give during this semester a Masterclass lecture open to all the students of the school.

Expectations

Candidates must have a strong professional or academic background in architectural, urban and/or landscape design. They are invited to propose innovative and exploratory studio teaching in line with ENSA Normandie's bachelor degree program. In the context of the studio, the aim is to work with students on design methods and issues that stand out from those usually used in the ENSA schools. It is planned to hold at least two of the four studios in English.

Conditions

Candidates are required to provide evidence of professional activity in architecture and/or teaching or research duties in a higher education research establishment, either in France, Europe or abroad.

They must also be qualified architects, urban planners or landscape architects.
